- proof of purchase of the vessel or ownership documentation
- copy of current insurance cover note
- copy of current Boat Safety Certificate
- copy of CRT and/or other necessary river licenses required for the journey
- copy of any breakdown insurance documentation
- written right to access the boat provided by owners of private land where the boat is moored, if applicable

If no access to email, then the client will leave hard copies of the documentation shown above on board the boat for the duration of the service.

Vessel Fitness to travel

The client warrants that:

- there is a mooring available for the vessel at the end of the journey;
- if the vessel is moored on a private berth, then permission to access the boat has been given by the owner of the berth;
- the vessel’s engine and hull/superstructure is in good working order, engine oil has been checked and the engine temperature gauge is in working order;
- the vessel has enough fuel on board to complete the journey. (Any additional fuel needed to be purchased by SBM in order to complete the journey will be invoiced as charged plus a 10% service fee.)
- sufficient extra engine oil is on board in the event that the engine consumes oil during the duration of the journey. (Any additional engine oil needed to be purchased by SBM in order to complete the journey will be invoiced as used plus a 10% service fee.)
- the stern gland is filled with sufficient grease for the journey;

- sufficient electrical power is available on board for lights including tunnel light if required. (Use of SBM's own tunnel light will be charged at £10/tunnel in the event that the boat's own lighting system is insufficient.)
- locking and mooring gear is on board the vessel including appropriate stern, bow and centre ropes, lock windlasses, mooring pins, hammer, sufficient fenders;
- an anchor is on board, with sufficient chain, if the journey is to include tidal waterways; (anchor rental from SBM is £30 for each day that an anchor is mandated for the journey.)

- a hosepipe is available and suitable for fresh water replenishment;
- the client's insurance company has been informed of the journey and insurance cover has been agreed and paid for;
- valid breakdown insurance is in place and details are stored on the boat for the duration of the journey; if no breakdown insurance, then SBM will use its own and recharge any expenses back to the customer.
- it will not hold SBM responsible in the event of delays caused by situations outside SBM's control including but not limited to CRT stoppage changes, weather, obstructions and river conditions, etc.;
- payment in full will be transferred to SBM prior to handover of the vessel's keys on the first day of the journey
- any incidental charges (e.g. for vessel fuel, agreed return to base charges per quotation, necessary expenses, additional crew days necessitated due to the condition of the craft, unforeseen conditions of any kind including on the waterways during the journey, etc.) are paid promptly upon request.
- any vulnerable possessions on the boat are packed appropriately to prevent loss or damage.

The vessel is deemed fit to travel only if all of the above are in place.

In the event that SBM undertakes the journey without the vessel being fit to travel, there shall be no liability accepted by SBM regarding the vessel or its contents.

Please note. The price for the journey is based upon SBM's understanding that the vessel is fit to travel. Should additional days be required to complete the journey due to problems with the vessel, an additional invoice will be raised upon completion of the journey and the client agrees to pay these daily charges forthwith.

Transfer of keys

The owner will post keys, or leave the keys with a trusted third party (e.g. local marina) or be with the vessel on the first day of the journey, in order to transfer keys to the helmsperson.

- have public liability and hull insurance in place to cover any accidental damage while your vessel is under our control.

This is in addition to your own insurances as documented above;

- protect your floors and furniture with dust sheets to minimise mud and dirt and sweep your boat at the conclusion of the journey
- use CanalPlan to calculate an accurate plan of the journey in order to offer a fair price;
- plan around CRT stoppages and advise promptly should there become an issue with these during the journey (for example, if the journey is delayed and consequently planned or unplanned stoppages affect the delivery date)
- pre-book any tunnel access and moorings required for the journey and promptly advise you of any additional costs for these;
- keep you informed of the journey progress by text message each evening;
- safely moor and lock up the vessel at the place indicated in the "journey details" (above) and will provide you with an estimated time of arrival via phone or text message to the number shown above at the destination on the last day of the journey.

- return the keys to you directly or to a trusted third party whose details you have previously provided.
